BRITISH FLEET
ORGANIZER DEAD

Death Ends Notable Career of Admiral John A. Fisher,
Dreadnaught Inventor

LONDON, July 10.—The British navy today lost one of its most picturesque figures with the death of Baron Fisher of Kilverstone, admiral of the fleet, John Arbuthnot Fisher, who was a typical representative of the bulldog breed. His motto on his coat of arms, "Fear God and dread nought," was lived up to in his long career in the British navy. He was often called the father of the fleet and was responsible for the building of dreadnaught battleships.

After a period of retirement Lord Fisher was called in to help with his advice during the recent war and his activities in a pressing controversy in which he advocated a clean sweep of old officials as well as obsolete ships, earned him the name of "scrap-the-boat-Fisher."

Admiral Fisher had been ill for some time. He underwent a surgical operation Friday evening which was the direct cause of death. He received no anesthetic and was fully conscious to the end.

A memorial service will be held in Westminster Abbey Tuesday.

Greek doors were inclined inwards at the top.

WASN'T TOUGH, VERDICT:
ALTAR BOY GETS DAMAGES

(By International News Service.)
NEW YORK.—William McCue, who sued the Russell Sage Foundation for printing his picture in a book, "Boyhood and Lawlessness," recovered $3,500 before Justice Ford recently. The picture was labeled "The Toughest Kid on the Block."

At the time McCue was an altar boy in St. Ambrose's Church, Justice Ford in denying a motion to set aside the verdict said:

"There is not a scintilla of evidence that he was tough at all. The picture is a wicked libel."

That is the great trouble with these motions, they think that where there is poverty there must be criminality. As a matter of fact in these humble little homes in the very section pictured in this book (Hill Kitchen), there will be found more Christian piety, more devotion to real duty, more of the sterling qualities of humanity than will be found in the mansions along Fifth avenue.

"These people from their great height of self-conscious righteousness and superior excellence, peer down on us and discuss these humble beings as though they were so many cabbages in the streets, without any regard at all for their feelings or their rights in the community."

TO DARKEN HAIR
APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair black and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though it is troublesome, an easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not so full, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous.—Advertisement.

TICKLES' IVORIES MANY HOURS, SEEKS NEW TITLE

(By International News Service.)
LONDON.—In a small cinema at Croydon a man, muffled in iodine bandages, plays the piano for at least fifteen hours daily, in training for the world's championship for piano-playing endurance.

He is Professor Albert Kemp, who has been out to win a prize of $50,000 which a Chicago music firm has offered to the man who can play the piano one hundred hours without a stop.

"I think I can do it," he said recently, "I held the time championship in 1917 for playing sixty-six hours at Croydon, which carried a reward of $1,000, but since then a German New Yorker named Schroeder has played for eighty-two hours, and he is competing for the $20,000."

His arms are bound with iodine bandages to keep the blood from bursting his fingers, and, at intervals, the piano keys are sprayed with methylated spirit, so that his finger tips don't crack. I am fed by attendants as I go on, and between my meals I chew tobacco. It is a habit of mine. My face, too, has to be bathed with eau de Cologne, which clears my brain splendidly.

"One very difficult thing," Mr. Kemp points out, "is memorizing sufficient pieces of music. For the contest I shall have to learn at least 150, and during the last three hours of the one hundred I am to play the 'William Tell' overture, 'Parsifal,' and the 'Pomp and Circumstance' overtures."

Kemp is to undergo his test at Croydon on September 1, and the next week he will start a forty-nine hours test, after which he intends to forego sleep, take exercise on his bicycle, and then return to the cinema for another nine hours' playing.

STRAWBERRY CROP BIG

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON.—The strawberry crop on the eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia will bring into the farms and truck growers this year not less than $2,000,000, according to estimates of growers and bankers in that section. The bank accounts of the Wicomico county farmers alone have increased $450,000 as a result of their berry shipments for the season. The average price is $7.50 per crate of twenty-two quarts. There are 250 crates in a car load, and each car is valued at $2,500. The shipments so far from the town of Pittsville have been 164 carloads, and from Marion in Somerset county, almost twice that number.

FEAR SHUTDOWN OF STEEL MILLS

Operators Show Seriousness of Conditions Following
Freight Car Order

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A shutdown of steel mills is threatened because of car shortage, representatives of more than a score of steel manufacturers today informed the interstate commerce commission. Daniel Willard, chairman of the advisory committee of the association of railway executives who also appeared before the commission was equally insistent.

"I believe there will not be any general shutdown of industry," declared Mr. Willard. "The situation I believe will not get any worse, and I believe we can make it better."

A half score witnesses appeared at the closing session of the commission's hearing on possible modification of its order requiring preference to be given coal mines east of the Mississippi, in the assignment of open top cars. No indication of the commission's probable action was given at adjournment.

Addressing the shippers, Chairman Clark declared the commission realized the "utter impossibility" of pleasing all of them, but he urged that they follow the suggestion of Mr. Willard to attempt solution of car service through cooperation between them and the railroad officials.

BUILDING OF ROADS.
By the shippers and the railroads acting through local car service committees, Mr. Willard expected it would not be necessary to prevent all movement of building and that material could be moved for highway repairs, maintenance and construction of essential connecting road links. Such transportation, he anticipated, could be had on the return movement of the open top equipment to the mines.

Other witnesses in their testimony pointed to the necessity of rushing coal to northern Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, while lake transportation was available. Mr. Willard described the coal movement to that territory as the "most disturbing problem" at present, asserting that 25,000,000 tons must be moved by way of the Great Lakes before the close of next year.

MOVEMENT OF COAL.
Plans for the movement of the coal to this territory will be considered at a meeting of local operators here Monday and Tuesday, and by the railway executives at New York Wednesday.

Mr. Willard told the commission he hoped the plans developed by these conferences would not require new emergency orders from the commission to insure the coal movement but, if necessary, he said would ask for orders late next week.

ARMENIANS WILL MAKE PEACE WITH RUSS REDS

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 10.—Armenian representatives in Constantinople have been advised that peace will be concluded at Moscow between the Bolsheviks and the Armenians and that consular and diplomatic relations will be resumed immediately. Leo Shanth represented Armenia in the Moscow negotiations and M. Karak has acted for the Bolsheviks.

With the Bolsheviks dominating Azerbaijan, the British evacuating Batumi and Bolshevik ministers in both Tiflis and Erivan, speedy domination of the entire Caucasus by the Bolsheviks seems inevitable.

TRENTON, N. J., July 10.—The New Jersey State League of Republican clubs, with a membership of 21, more than 130,000, formally opened the Harding and Coolidge campaign in this state at the league's annual convention here today. Great applause greeted the names of the national candidates.
